An English Bull.—At Messrs. Brown Brothers' dinner, one of the speakers remarked that one of the advertising matter. Will the trade please note that Mr. Mr. A. E. Hillaby wants show-cards, lists, and advertising matter. Will the trade please note that Mr. Hillaby has changed his address to 11, St. James' Street, London, W.

The Humber-Corner three-speed gear has added another diamond in the Humber crown.

A very important point in connection with the Griffin two-speed which has not, we believe, been previously noted, is that it is the only two-speed gear in which the whole of the gear is independent of the weight of the rider, that is to say, the whole of the rider's weight is carried direct upon the spindle, as in any ordinary single gear bicycle. Thus there is no strain upon the gear whatever, with the result that easier running is assured, with the additional fact that no strain beyond that of driving is placed upon the gear mechanism.

Messrs. Hibbins and Co., of Green Lane, Stonecroft, Liverpool, inform us they have taken over the
