THE WIND OF THE ROAD

You know how it is . . . perfect going till the road veers to the west and you find yourself butting into a nasty bit of headwind.

However, through all the buffeting there's a feeling of superiority . . . amounting almost to pity . . . for the fellow you've just passed . . . HE seemed to be making heavy weather of it . . . wonder if he realises the enormous difference a first-class chainwheel like the WILLIAMS Flanged makes . . .

DO YOU?
