

the norman inquest...

or what every dealer should know about Britain's best selling moped

IN DAYS OF OLD when knights were bold, many a Norman Conqueror would have gladly swapped his helm, boots and breastplate for a brand-new Norman Nippy; and King Bill would have had a right royal task trying to keep tabs on his troops during their days and nights off. Incidentally, have you noticed that the Norman Nippy is built to carry panniers too—spacious enough to hold a complete change of civvies for men going A.W.O.A. (Absent without Armour).

NORMAN

A COMPANY OF THE  CYCLE DIVISION.

The Norman Nippy — cheaper in the long run

NORMAN CYCLES LIMITED · ASHFORD · KENT

IceniCAM Information Service

www.icenicam.org.uk